Facilities

Media

Books, journals, CDs, DVDs, tapes, videos and loose-leaf publications are available on three floors. The biggest part of the stock (apart from journals, loose-leaf collections and the marked reference collection) is available for lending. At present our holdings comprise 160,000 media and about 200 subject related journals.

Technical equipment

Inside the library, there are 17 workstations at the user's disposal in order to facilitate literature search. However, every PC is also equipped with word processing software. Printing and photocopying facilities are available as well. The student ID is required for payment at the card-operated machine. Charges for black and white photocopies are €0.05; colour photocopies cost €0.25. In addition, you can use a book scanner to scan your material to a USB drive free of charge.

Reading areas

Our library offers seating capacities with individual work desks for numerous users.

Literature Search

PRIMO

PRIMO is an online tool that allows simultaneous searches across a wide range of contents, including resources in print and online. It offers users a single interface to search in the holdings of the libraries at RheinMosel-, RheinAhr- and WesterWaldCampus as well as in free and licensed databases, e.g. Business Source Premier, WISO, JSTOR, ...

In the course of the literature search you can immediately see if a book has been ordered, if it is in the acquisition process or if it is available for loan in the open access library. If a book has been borrowed by another user, you have the option of placing a reservation. Once you borrowed a book which you want to keep longer it is possible to renew this item online.

PRIMO can be easily approached from every computer with internet access. This involves that you can search for literature, reserve media or renew borrowed items from your home computer as well. For more information on PRIMO, please consult our special leaflet which you find available at the lending desk.

In a nutshell, PRIMO offers a low-threshold introduction to literature search. Full texts are directly available, if a VPN connection has been established.

eBooks

eBooks from German publishers, e.g. Beck, De Gruyter, Hanser, Hogrefe, Nomos, Springer, UTB, ..., can also be found in PRIMO.

eJournals

Scholarly journals to which the Koblenz University of Applied Sciences has purchased electronic access or which are freely available on the Internet are listed in the Electronic Journals Library \(EZB\). For more information consult the library homepage.

DigiBib

Via the uniform interface of the digital library (DigiBib), you can search in various library catalogues and bibliographic databases.

Databases

For further literature research various general and subject-related databases are available. They are listed in DBIS \(Database Information System\) according to subject.
